Hidup setiap manusia tidak terlepas daripada berdepan dengan masalah sama ada ringan atau berat. Ketika menghadapi permasalahan ringan dalam hidup, kebanyakan manusia jarang berputus asa, namun tidak sedikit daripada mereka yang mengeluh dan kehilangan mood kerananya. Ketika menghadapi masalah berat pula, ada yang hilang arah dan pedoman hingga terlupa kepada Sang Pencipta. Lantaran itu, ada orang yang sangat membenci masalah dan berusaha lari daripadanya. Ada yang berputus asa kerananya, justeru menjadikan keadaannya semakin buruk dan menderita. SENYUMLAH ditulis untuk membantu pembaca melihat masalah dengan cara pandang yang baru. Setelah membaca buku ini, mudah-mudahan pembaca akan menjadi lebih bahagia dan lebih faham bahawa setiap permasalahan itu sama ada berat atau ringan, ia pasti akan berlalu akhirnya.

Gagal dalam kematian jauh lebih teruk daripada gagal dalam peperiksaan. Anda boleh gagal dalam hidup, tapi jangan sampai gagal dalam kematian! Maksudnya, jangan sampai kita mati dan tercatat sebagai orang yang gagal di sisi Tuhan. Maka belajarlah daripada kematian. Banyak-banyaklah mengingati kematian. Buat persediaan yang matang untuk menghadapi kematian. Jangan lupakan kematian, kerana kematian tak pernah melupakan kita. Jangan lupa untuk mengambil pelajaran daripadanya, kerana kelupaan itu akan menjadi penyesalan yang besar pada hari kemudian. Jangan tak bersedia dalam menghadapinya, kerana kematian selalu mengintai dan bersedia untuk mencabut nyawa kita. Jangan tunggu lagi. Ambillah pelajaran sekarang juga. Buat persediaan secepatnya. Agar pada akhirnya kita mampu menjadi seorang pemenang yang sejati. Seorang pemenang yang mendapat iktiraf daripada Khalik, bukan sekadar iktiraf daripada makhluk.

Cahaya Nabawiy Edisi 179 Ternyata Revolusi yang dilakukan salaf itu adalah dengan ilmu dan amal. Tidak dengan kekerasan atau cacik maki. We live in a period of accelerating change. New trends, technologies and crisis emerge rapidly and transform familiar social and political landscapes. Established and cherished ideals, with deep historical roots, can be overturned overnight. Unconventional and uncommon notions and events can appear as though from nowhere, proliferate, and become dominant. The last few years alone have witnessed the emergence of populism and the far right in Europe and the US, Brexit, cracks in the European Union, cyber wars accompanied by the re-emergence of a cold war. China as an increasingly dominant new superpower. Pandemics like the Ebola and Zika viruses. Climate change leading to extreme weather events. Driverless cars. AI. ' Fake News ' . ' Alternative Facts ' . ' Post-Truth ' . ' Disruptive technologies ' that disrupt and often corrupt everything. Everything seems to be in a state of flux, nothing can be trusted. All that we regard as normal is melting away right before us. The postnormal times theory attempts to make sense of a rapidly changing world, where uncertainty is the dominant theme and ignorance has become a valuable commodity. The Postnormal Times Reader is a pioneering anthology of writings on the contradictory, complex and chaotic nature of our era. It covers the origins, theory and methods of postnormal times; and examines a host of issues, ranging from climate change, governance, Middle East to religion and science, from the perspective of postnormal times. By mapping some of the key local and global issues of our transitional age, the Reader suggests a way of navigating our turbulent futures.

Indonesian Islam is often portrayed as being intrinsically moderate by virtue of the role that mystical Sufism played in shaping its traditions. According to Western observers--from Dutch colonial administrators and orientalist scholars to modern anthropologists such as the late Clifford Geertz--Indonesia's peaceful interpretation of Islam has been perpetually under threat from outside by more violent, intolerant Islamic traditions that were originally imposed by conquering Arab armies. The Makings of Indonesian Islam challenges this widely accepted narrative, offering a more balanced assessment of the intellectual and cultural history of the most populous Muslim nation on Earth. Michael Laffan traces how the popular image of Indonesian Islam was shaped by encounters between colonial Dutch scholars and reformist Islamic thinkers. He shows how Dutch religious preoccupations sometimes echoed Muslim concerns about the relationship between faith and the state, and how Dutch-Islamic discourse throughout the long centuries of European colonialism helped give rise to Indonesia's distinctive national and religious culture. The Makings of Indonesian Islam presents Islamic and colonial history as an integrated whole, revealing the ways our understanding of Indonesian Islam, both past and present, came to be.

Despite President George W. Bush's assurances that Islam is a peaceful religion and that all good Muslims hunger for democracy, confusion persists and far too many Westerners remain convinced that Muslims and terrorists are synonymous. In the aftermath of the attacks of 9/11, the subsequent wars in Afghanistan and Iraq, and the recent bombings in London, an unprecedented amount of attention has been directed toward Islam and the Muslim world. Yet, even with this increased scrutiny, most of the public discourse regarding Islam revolves around the actions of extremist factions such as the Wahhabis and al-Qa'ida. But what of the Islam we don't hear about? As the second-largest and fastest-growing religion in the world, Islam is deemed by more than a billion Muslims to be a source of serenity and spiritual peace, and a touchstone for moral and ethical guidance. While extremists have an impact upon the religion that is wildly disproportionate to their numbers, moderates constitute the majority of Muslims worldwide. It is this rift between the quiet voice of the moderates and the deafening statements of the extremists that threatens the future of the faith. In The Great Theft, Khaled Abou El Fadl, one of the world's preeminent Islamic scholars, argues that Islam is currently passing through a transformative period no less dramatic than the movements that swept through Europe during the Reformation. At this critical juncture there are two completely opposed worldviews within Islam competing to define this great world religion. The stakes have never been higher, and the future of the Muslim world hangs in the balance. Drawing on the rich tradition of Islamic history and law, The Great Theft is an impassioned defense of Islam against the encroaching power of the extremists. As an accomplished Islamic jurist, Abou El Fadl roots his arguments in long-standing historical legal debates and delineates point by point the beliefs and practices of moderate Muslims, distinguishing these tenets from the corrupting influences of the extremists. From the role of women in Islam to the nature of jihad, from democracy and human rights to terrorism and warfare, Abou El Fadl builds a vital vision for a moderate Islam. At long last, the great majority of Muslims who oppose extremism have a desperately needed voice to help reclaim Islam's great moral tradition.
