romantic fantasy she's ever had. But each morning reality returns. She could just cry. But she won't. Tears don't change a damn thing. Then without any warning, a month before her eighteenth birthday, everything does change. A guardian finds her. He explains, in a strangely familiar accent, that she was stashed on Earth for safekeeping and has been lost to her family ever since. And it is time to return home. To First World; a land of unimagined beauty. Abigail and Lucy find themselves thrust from New York and into another world. Day one: traversing through an unforgiving wilderness. Yeah, because that sort of thing just happens every day. Luckily an unexpected savior arrives; the man from her dream-world. they do. Like most young women, she only wants a normal life to finish school, become a nurse, maybe even travel the world someday. But one night she has a terrible nightmare and watches helplessly as a young boy executes a man in cold blood. What she wants to believe is only a bad dream turns out to be an actual murder! Is this all for real? Is she just going crazy? Or is she, as her dead-beat dad tries to tell her, a walker, one with a special talent for crossing into different dimensions? If she believes him, she stumbled into The Stratum, a dimension run by powerful organization that manipulates and controls the real-world through it. And they really don't like strangers wandering in, fouling up their plans or exposing their nefarious deeds. In the first episode of the Walker Saga, Aislen must decide what is true and what's a lie, who she can trust and who she can't and discover who and what she
